

POLICY 5000

STUDENT ENROLLMENT

POLICY:

In British Columbia, children between the ages of 6 and 16 must go to school or they can study at home. Children who live in B.C. can access an education program at a public school for free, a private independent school, or study at home.

Part 2 and 3 of the School Act outlines the requirements for enrollment in a B.C. Education program.
